

KITCHEN

"Because the kitchen is where we spend most of our time, it should be not only utilitarian, but a sensitive expression of the owners' taste. Sometimes we mix colors and materials to call attention to an island or other focal point. A combination of open shelving and cabinets also can provide interesting contrast, with some glass doors in discreet places to emphasize elegant dishware." —Mike Hewes, Hewes & Company

